Institute not only implements curriculum given by the PAH Solapur University, Solapur but also conducts some co-curricular, extracurricular activities. At the starting of the semester, every teacher is required to submit teaching plan for their respective subjects, which includes details of curricular content, and accordingly teachers make preparation of lectures. Teachers conduct lectures according to teaching plan. They deliver lectures adopting various methods and also take the help of audio visual tools, like power point presentation, discussions, debates, etc. Students are asked to present cases form the syllabi. Moot Courts are conducted as if they are appearing in the Court. Teachers help the students in their moot competitions. 7.2 – Best Practices

7.2.1 – Describe at least two institutional best practices

1. Title of the Practice Legal Aid and Legal Literacy Camps Objectives of the practice The vision, mission and objectives of the college are devoted to Spreading legal awareness by providing quality legal education and professional competencies to the students. The goal of Spreading legal awareness and social change can be achieved successfully by providing law students an opportunity to understand social, economic, rural and educational context of the litigants and litigation process. The students, staff and Advocates take part in legal aid and legal literacy by providing guidance and access to knowledge of laws to the students and underprivileged class of the society. The primary goal is to provide social orientation and legal competencies to students so that they can deal with such issues in future legal practice. The Context The study of law consists of both theory and practical subjects. As a part of clinical legal education the college organizes legal aid and legal literacy programs and makes regular efforts to provide legal aid and advice to the society at large. India is the largest democracy in the world with majority of population living in villages. The rate of legal literacy in villages is limited to the primary knowledge of law, and it certainly results in fear and hesitation to access justice delivery system. The college always intends to provide knowledge of law by creating awareness and legal aid to realise about their rights. There will be no social change, unless and until the knowledge of rights is translated into legal actions. The college provides active participation of students, staff, Advocates and Judiciary through lectures, PPT presentation, counselling and street plays. The Practice The college organizes legal aid programmes at different rural areas and provides legal assistance for those who are in need of it. The college organizes legal aid and legal literacy by providing information and knowledge of law in and around the places of Solapur district through lectures, on legal issues such as Right to Education, Right to Information Act, AntiRagging Laws, and Prevention to sexual harassment at workplace, fundamental rights and duties, human right laws, gender issues and consumer law etc. The college organizes legal aid camps in rural areas on property laws, land laws, 7/12 extract, family and Matrimonial cases. The college consistently organizes programs for youth and senior citizens by inviting senior Advocates, Social Activists and Psychiatrists to guide and provide knowledge on sociolegal issues. The college organizes legal aid camps in association with bar association in the Solapur. The college promotes active participation of students, staff, senior advocates, judiciary, and alumni to deliver lectures on legal issues. The students participate in legal literacy camps by collecting information and data and provide the possible solutions in the framework of legal statutes. The college has also established legal aid centre to provide legal aid and advice at free of cost to the needy and poor people.

2. Title of the Practice: Moot Court and Clinical Training Moot Court training is a time tested and most dependable method and the best tool available for equipping a law student with the attributes of an effective and successful professional lawyer. Watching the performance of some of the best among the trained law students in the National Moot Court competitions, several sitting and retired judges and top lawyers have openly acknowledged and commented that they are at par or even better than the professional lawyers at the top rung. Systematic, disciplined and regular training and planning of a law student coupled with his innate abilities would convert a law student into a professional lawyer during his law college days and it is the most effective method for developing most of the lawyering skills. Moot Court competitions and selections give opportunities to the law student to get exposure at the national and international levels with judges, reputed lawyers and academicians. The Moot court teacher and the other staff members gives special training to students to participate in renowned Moot Court Competitions organized at the national and international levels. It is a matter of credit for the College that their students win in several such competitions. This year three teams were selected to represent Our Law College in several Moot Court Competitions at the National level, and have also won the same. Moot Court provides the law student the skills to write a legal memoranda, the legal research skills to identify the problem and its issues and analyse them, the legal writing skills, the skills to find out legal issues, the law, the ability to interpret facts and law, the skills to know how, where and the way to find out the law, judicial decisions, legal materials, and the skill to use the law library and the ability to identify standard and quality legal materials and the opportunity to go deeper into substantive law. On orative skills, it enhances the speaking ability to levels of excellence and improves the language, its style, fluency and clarity in speaking.
